Prabowo is 72 years old, allegations he was involved in the kidnapping and torture of pro-democracy activists in the late 1990s Prabowo denies and not been charged in a criminal court. During campaigning, Prabowo, who has long had a reputation for having a fierce temperament has tried to show a softer side, using humour and dancing on stage at rallies. All candidates have been very active on TikTok and Instagram to target the younger population Run off is very likely as winning candidate would need to secure 50% of votes. 3 day before election date there is a silence period.	Indonesia held the world's largest one-day election on Feb. 14. Indonesian Defence Minister Prabowo declared victory in Wednesday's presidential election, 204.8 million Indonesians are eligible to cast votes. this was also his third shot at the top job in the world's third-largest democracy. Prabowo received about 58% of votes according to unofficial "quick counts", more than double that of his nearest opponent, former Jakarta governor Anies Baswedan. Unfortunately, 71 people have so far died from exhaustion working the elections. About 4,000 others fell sick after completing their duties.
